It can be installed on any existing roof with asphalt shingles, standing seam metal, wood shake, clay tile or slate roofs. It is perfect for remodeling or new construction. Two workers can utilize the system when using in fall restraint or one user in fall arrest.

"With over 30 years in the painting and contracting business I have used and come across many methods of tying off by contractors, many of them not to standard, and some were outright dangerous. At the end of the day this invention puts safety in the contractor's hands. Not only is it innovative, it works and is a great asset to any job site for any contractor."
